BOOSTS SALARIES OF CITY OFFICERS

Recorder, Auditor and Treasurer | Chief Pitt Appeals to City Council May Get $700 More for A Year's Work.

ITS LEGALITY IS QUESTIONED.

Conflict of Opinion is Based on Statute Regarding Increases in Money To be Paid Employes.

Salaries were boosted last night by the city council, but how long they will remain at the elevated figure is a matter of doubt, as there is some question as to the legality of the ordinance passed by the council last night effecting the changes. By the ordinance, the salaries of the recorder, auditor and treasurer were raised from $1,800 to $2,500 per annum. City Atty. Ogden Hiles says the ordinances are within the law, City Atty. C. C. Dey, in pass-ing on a similar question several years ing on a similar question several years ago; seld the act was not valid and last night Asst. City Atty. H. J. Dininny wanted to amend the ordinances so that they would be beyond question, but the recorder and auditor insisted that they go through in their present form, which prevailed.

STATUTES MAY PREVENT.

The section of the statutes upon which the question of the validity of the new ordinances is based reads:
"Compensation—All officers of any city shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by ordinance, but the compensation of any such officers shall not be increased or diminished, to take effect during the time for which any such officer was elected or appointed."—Chapter VI. section 225, revised statutes of Utah, 1898.
City Recorder J. B. Moreton and City

Clity Recorder J. B. Moreton and City Auditor Aiff succeed themselves on Jan. I in their present positions, City Treasurer-elect Gideon Snyder assumes his office for the first time on the same day. If the ordinances increasing salaries are approved by Mayor Bransford they will go into effect the day these officers assume their duties in consequence of the last election.

President A. J. Davis of the council last night refused to cast his vote for the suspension of the rules to permit the passage of the ordinances nor for the measure's passage. He believes the ordinances will not stand in the courts. The ordinances were introduced last Oct.

The ordinances were introduced last October by Councilman Black and have been pigeonholed in the municipal laws committee pouch for the intervening time. Had they been passed before election, it is said there would have been no question whatever as to their validity.

THE ROUTINE WAS TIRESOME.

Matters of Minor Importance Occupled Much Time and Presented Few Problems.

More policemen will be added to the local police force to aid in the suppression of crime. Chief Pitt appealed to the city council last night for 10 extra men to work until the end of the year at $3 each per day and the request was granted.

To patrol the streets with "harness bulls" and to keep a sharp lookout for thugs and other criminals with "fly bulls" has almost exhausted the resources of the police department, many of the men working as much ass 36 hours without sleep—and in some cases shifts even longer have been put in by the men detailed to work on special duty.

The council routine was wearlsome appointed special policeman to pa rou the block bounded by Second and Third South streets and Main and State streets. William Goodsell will pre-serve order at the Lyric theater and Rees Jones was appointed to act for the Rio Grande, vice Con Haley, removed. TO INTRODUCE SYSTEM.

Westerman and Trader, the special auditors employed by the city coun-cil's committee on finance to go over the city's books and suggest changes in the city's books and suggest changes in the system of accounting, has reconmended to the council a large number of ordinances looking to changes of system, or rather to the introduction of system into the city offices.

The committee on fire Jepartment will investigate the case of fireman O. Pettingill, who was discharaged by Chief C. F. Vall for a cause which he did not care to review. He asked the lid not care to review. He asked the council to confirm his action last night out it referred the matter to the comnittee before taking any action, Chief Pitt refused to approve the ap-plication for a liquor license to be granted a saloon proposing to open a place on Richards street. Chief Pitt-said in his communication that he fear-ed it would be for bad effect upon the patrons of a skating rink in the street,

Mrs. Bradley will bring with her the two children, and on arriving here will take steps to break the Brown will, so that they may inherit a portion of his estate. After a short stay here it is thought that Mrs. Bradley will join relatives in Goldfield, and make her permanent home there.

BACHICH SEEKS PARDON.

Convicted of Complicity in Assault on Chidester, He Wants Freedom.

An echo of the murderous attack upon Deputy Sheriff Lafayette Chidester in "Little Austria," the foreign quarter of Bingham Junction, on March 24, 1905, comes with proceedings looking toward the pardon of Yoso Bachich, one of the Austrians sentenced to a one of the Austrians sentenced to a term in the penitentiary for the crime. Chidester lingered between life and death for several weeks, and is now almost helpiessly crippled from the effects of the wounds inflicted upon him. At the last session of the legislature Chidester was voted $2,500 and commended for his bravery in connection with the incident.

Chidester was on duty at the time he was attacked by the Austrians. He went to a disorderly gathering in a hut in the foreign quarter to break up a gathering which he thought was for no good purpose. In the fight which foilowed Chidester was badly wounded.

Parley P. Christensen was county attorney at the time Bachich was convicted and prosecuted the man. Now he appears as his attorney in his application for pardon. Bachich will attempt to show that he was not near the scene of the shoeting at the time.
